

TV News Director/Directeur de Rédaction F/H (bilingual English-French) & Associate

3ec-TV, which is being set up in France (will be based in Brittany, France), is an independent international generalist bilingual (English-French) TV channel with a humanistic vision and ecology oriented, collaborating with recognized institutions and NGOs and supported by personalities around the world, visible on our information pages: <https://3ec-tv.com>

3ec-TV is an innovative media with a potentially large audience (launch in 2024 on 5 continents via internet, cable, satellite).

Position

Post (based in Brittany, France) with a permanent full-time contract, salary, profit-sharing scheme, company shares and a health-care insurance.

This position requires excellent communication skills, adaptability and confidentiality. You must be well organized, exact and be able to work in English and French as a benevolent leader of a motivated editorial team under the responsibility of the TV Programmes Director (and occasionally in collaboration with our expert media advisors). There will be opportunities to work with interns from various universities in due course. As the head of editorial you will be involved in all the news writing and news broadcast activities. You adhere to the company culture.

Main duties

You are responsible for the smooth running of the daily 3ec-TV news in English and French

- Ensure the production of the television news for broadcast/audio visual (A/V) and digital media
- Work closely with our 3 bilingual French-English journalists presenters/anchors who will prepare and present the news (pre-recorded, with subtitles)
- Brief them on the day's news and help to choose stories, considering source reliability and assessing the level of significance and relevance to the channel editorial line
- Supervise and contribute to the editorial team's (5 people) various activities to ensure successful running of the day-to-day TV news
- Carry out some interviews
- In charge of media relations and press releases
- Participate in the ongoing sizzle/teaser for the channel launch

Required Skills

- Great interest in constructive journalism (solutions-focused news)
- Interest in ecological and societal issues (experience reporting on those subjects is a plus)
- Excellent communication skills and a good command of French and English (spoken and written: spelling, grammar, syntax, vocabulary)
- Use of computer tools (office software and Internet) and knowledge of production and broadcast techniques
- TV broadcast experience is required, On-air TV experience is a plus
- Good knowledge of social networks
- Ability to manage responsibly the editorial staff

Qualifications

You have completed a degree in Broadcast Journalism or Media and Communication, and have a relevant proven experience in a similar position. You hold a press card.

Contact

If you are a TV broadcast journalist, entrepreneurial-minded and motivated by the ethical values and challenges of an innovative TV channel, join the friendly team of 3ec-TV and its internationally renowned collaborators and advisors (visible on our information pages: <https://3ec-tv.com>).

Please send your resume (CV), portfolio/show reel and cover letter indicating expected salary (Ref: F-3ec-TV-ND) to: contact [at] 3ec-tv.com

Follow us on LinkedIn